

Very good information, as I first read about this in the Methow Valley News. Have not heard a word about any of this over here on the West side of the Cascade. Being in on the action is “tricky” to say the least. I’m surprised that the USFS does not have a website where the public can comment. [Note: they do. It’s www.regulations.gov] As per the Wolf implant situation, another con game in my book, to the tune of 1 million dollars for every implanted wolf. I am a senior, and since I have had my Senior pass for 4 years now, I have seen fees escalate twice, already. I pay half, but it’s what used to be full fee when got my pass originally. The fees “KEEP GOING UP.” I worked hard during my life, and served in the military for my country for six years, and now they don’t want us to camp here in a forest which we worked for and fought to protect. I DON’T LIKE IT. One action I am going to do, and tell all my retired friends to do. Is that with every pay envelope we deposit money in, leave comments. I am going to recommend that they put a comment about not increasing fees, or getting rid of the fees for us seniors. Myself, I fill out many of these between May and October, others can do the same, maybe a message will be sent? I do believe that any comments have to be “recorded” and maintained. It’s record keeping, and if enough show up they will think better. In reading all the pages in the reports on your web site, it sounds just like “government as usual,” lies, deceit, and work the paperwork to their benefit. They spend more on meetings and discussing it than they will recoup in fees in the campgrounds. Actually, they are just trying to help themselves to become more lazy bastards so they don’t have to clean  [toilets] or collect fees. Hey, I was in military for six years, I been there and done that stuff and it was a whole lot dirtier than what they doing. The USFS personnel and government behind all of that better be careful because I’d hate for them to have an Octo-Army of irate Seniors on their ass, and that’s exactly what they will get.

Thanks,
Frank Tapley
